

City Garden

Marie-Clare Leonard contacted us with our most common problem, she lived in a beautiful property but was overlooked on all sides and as the houses around her, like her own, were three storey she needed maturity and screening and wasn't prepared to wait for something to grow to reach the size she needed and compromise her privacy. Her garden wasn't huge as there was a mews to the rear of it so we suggested large espaliered Beech trees on one side of her garden that had a clear stem to 120cm with frames that reached 3.5m in total height. On the opposite side around the parking spots we planned standard Evergreen Oaks again giving year round structure but a different texture and colour so as not to overpower the garden. Two Evergreen Magnolias, a Mimosa and a number of Olive trees finished off the design. The client was delighted with the design and we got to work on planting up the garden and creating the privacy that they needed, the garden has now had time to settle and grown somewhat and fulfils all the requirements and much more.

"I have been delighted with the design, service and the plants that Ian & Jo from Caragh Nurseries supplied and installed. I now have a private sanctuary in the centre of Dublin."
